About this boat

BGX 73, built in 2023, is a 22.67-meter motor yacht designed by Luca Santella together with Zuccon International Project. She is conceived for experienced owners who value unconventional layouts and practical use of space. The BGX 73 features a seaworthy hull and a distinctive architecture that prioritizes connection with the water while maintaining comfort in different weather conditions. A key element of the BGX 73 is the expansive beach area combined with a deck that can be fully closed, allowing year-round use. The interior layout is arranged around the centrally positioned owner's suite, which is a defining feature of this model. The suite has direct access to the main living area opening toward the beach...
