About this boat

The Coronado 35 (1976) is a timeless cruiser that blends classic American design with extensive modern upgrades, making her an excellent choice for sailors seeking reliability, comfort, and autonomy. Driven by a dependable 65 HP Mercedes diesel engine and supported by lithium batteries, solar panels, a generator, and an inverter, she is well equipped for long stays at anchor or extended coastal cruising. With 150 liters of diesel and 250 liters of freshwater, she offers a solid range and independence. Critical sailing components were renewed in 2025, including standing rigging, mainsail, halyard swivel, and lazy jacks, ensuring confidence and ease of handling under sail. A full sail wardrobe- furling genoa, spi...
