About this boat

Built for serious cruising and long-distance passagemaking, this 1983 Dufour A9000 yacht offers the strength and safety of an aluminium hull combined with a spacious and practical liveaboard layout. The yacht is equipped with Quantum furling sails from 2014, Raymarine autopilot, solar panels, electric windlass, substantial ground tackle, and a reliable Perkins 4108M diesel engine that was overhauled together with the injection pump in 2015. The interior provides comfortable accommodation with a bright saloon, chart table area, functional galley with oven and refrigeration, two double cabins, and a separate washroom. Large freshwater capacity, LED lighting, inverter, AGM batteries, VHF communication system, and...
