About this boat

1981 Sun Fizz presented in good overall condition, benefiting from numerous structural and technical upgrades over the years, making this yacht particularly well suited for long-distance cruising and comfortable liveaboard use. The hull has undergone a complete anti-osmosis treatment, including refurbishment of the underwater sections, as well as reinforcement of the hull-to-deck joint, ensuring enhanced structural integrity and peace of mind at sea. The engine access from the cockpit has also been improved, and a custom stern platform has been added for easier access and increased onboard comfort. On deck, the yacht features a stainless-steel arch and aft gantry with solar panel supports, complemented by a win...
