About this boat

This is a two-masted sailing yacht, built in Greece. All sails are in good condition, and two additional light-wind sails are included. The boat itself is in good shape; the cabins are clean and the bathrooms are fully functional. During the last Adriatic crossing, the engine failed and was deemed beyond repair. It has since been removed. A new or used engine will need to be installed — this will be the responsibility of the new owner. We were advised to opt for the Yanmar 4JH engine, which is available with a hydraulic gearbox for approximately €23,000 net. The yacht is currently located in Dubrovnik, on the dry dock at ACI Marina Komolac. It can be viewed there by prior appointment.
