About this boat

Every whale and dolphin watching tour is unique and we never know what species we will see. The best season for whale watching in the Azores is Spring. Indeed, during this time of the year, we can spot some of the biggest animals in the world such as blue whales, fin whales and Sei whales. However, many dolphins and the endemic sperm whales are resident species of the Azores and that is why we see them year-round. We can also see birds, turtles and other marine wildlife in our deep blue waters. The tour starts in our shop in Ponta Delgada harbor. At the beginning, our marine biologists and guides will do a briefing about the species that you might see during the tour. They will also talk about the whale watchin...
